| ConceptThriveU is a cross-platform mobile application that helps university students manage academic stress and prevent burnout through mood tracking, guided breathing, journaling, and personalised wellness support. Unlike general wellness apps, ThriveU is specifically designed for students, encouraging healthy habits before stress develops into burnout. | Objectives &amp; Purposes <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Help students manage academic stress.</li><li>Encourage daily self-care habits.</li><li>Promote emotional awareness.</li><li>Prevent burnout through early intervention.</li><li>Increase students' awareness of their emotional well-being through daily mood tracking.</li></ul>                                                                     | ValuesThriveU is built on privacy, accessibility, empathy, and simplicity. It provides a safe, supportive, and confidential environment where students can develop healthy self-care habits without judgement.                                                                                     |
| PersonasPrimary User: University students (18–30) experiencing academic stress.Secondary User: Postgraduate students balancing study and work.                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Problems to SolveUniversity students often experience stress and burnout due to academic workloads. Existing wellness apps are often too generic and do not address the unique challenges faced by university students. ThriveU addresses this gap by providing practical wellness tools designed specifically for university students, helping them recognise stress early and build healthier coping habits. | ComponentsThe application is organised into six core modules: User Authentication, Mood Tracker, Digital Journal, Guided Breathing Exercises, Wellness Dashboard, and Notifications. Each component works together to provide a complete and personalised mental wellness experience for students. |
